R. G. DUN &amp; CO.'S REVIEW.

A WEEKLY REPORT OF THE STATE OF TRADE.

The Year Opened with Higher Prices—In the Southwest Failures Have Been Unusually Numerous; in Other Sections Not More Than Might Be Expected.

New York, Jan. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co. furnish the following weekly review of trade: The new year opens with higher prices. Wheat has advanced 1 1/2 cents this week on sales of 25,000,000 bushels. Oil has advanced 1 cent on sales of 10,000,000 barrels. Cotton rises 1 1/4 cent, with moderate transactions. Hogs, coffee, iron and silver are higher. Corn and oat have been a little weaker, and large real 1 1/2; by foreigners has checked the tendency to advance in stocks. But the expansion of currency and investment of large dividends received and profits realized tend to lift prices for the present in spite of fears regarding legislation.

Since August 1 the treasury has added $22,467,088 to the gold certificates outstanding, and $29,682,626 to the silver certificates, and about $7,000,000 to the standard silver dollars. Bank circulation has decreased $10,294,461, and the legal tenders not in the treasury have diminished over 5 1/2 per cent, not adding the addition to gold in circulation. Following an expansion of about $500,000,000 since 1873, this makes the circulation per capita the largest ever recorded. It is now to be noticed that silver dollars begin to go back to the treasury in the place of small certificates issued, and the government during the past week has taken in as much money as it paid out, in spite of half-yearly interest payments. Consultations at Washington make reduction of the revenue at this session improbable, and the accumulation of the surplus threatens disturbance after July 1.

Over 8,000 miles of railroad were built last year, only 1,500 in the eastern and southwestern states, and over 4,000 miles in Kansas, Nebraska, Dakota, Minnesota and Texas. Hence the rise in iron. Pittsburgh prices advanced $1 on Wednesday, though the production now exceeds half a million tons every month. The association's official report makes the output 4,950,000 tons for the last half of 1886. This powerful impulse toward prosperity, merchants fear, would be taken away if the interstate bill should discourage railroad building. In business circles the apprehension of a setback, as a consequence of high through rates for western products, and an arrest of railroad building, strongly influences calculations for the future. The failure of a large cattle-raising company illustrated a recent suggestion as to the evils of over production and control of transportation.

In the southwest failures have been unusually numerous; in other sections not more than might be expected for the first week of the year. Collections are generally satisfactory, and the increasing number of buyers gives greater activity here in the dry goods trade. Coal advances because of an important strike of handlers. Boston shipments of boots and shoes for 1886, were 2,875,316 cases against 2,678,364 in 1885. Wool sales at Philadelphia were 19,000,000 pounds less than in 1885, but New York imports of foreign wool were 18,900,000 pounds larger. Higher prices here for wheat and cotton also imply belief that production will be curtailed next year as a result of unsatisfactory terms to farmers.

Railroad earnings in December, on twenty-one roads, exceed those of 1885 about 13 per cent, and bank exchanges for the year show larger transactions than ever, excepting in parts of the south. But railway foreclosures, as reported by the Chicago Railway Age, exceeded in 1886, those of any previous year, including forty-five roads, with $373,000,000 of stock and bonds. The late decision of an Ohio court, invalidating the first mortgage on the Nickel-Plate road, is used to excite distrust of foreign investors, apparently with some effect. Foreign exchange has advanced, and shipments of gold hither are suspended. But Colorado reports an output of precious metals $4,294,688 greater in 1886 than 1885.

The failures during the last seven days number for the United States, 271; for Canada, 28; total, 299; against 278 last week, and 263 the week previous. The increase arises in the south, where the failures are exceptionally numerous, though not important.

Estimates for the year of the production of pig iron are as follows: Charcoal iron, 415,129 gross tons; anthracite iron, 1,830,215; bituminous iron, 3,391,375; total, 5,536,619 gross tons, being a little more than 1,500,000 tons more than last year, an increase of 33 per cent.

Arrested for Larceny.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 10.—Sheriff Fuller, of Plymouth county, came here yesterday and arrested D. F. Wood on a charge of grand larceny. The charge was preferred by Henry J. Marton, of Lemars, who accuses Wood of retaining $27 rent collected for Chapman & Co., of Lemars. The sheriff took Wood to Lemars, where he was arraigned. He waived examination, and was held to the February grand jury on a bond of $500. Wood says the prosecution is a blackmailing scheme, and that the arrest was instigated by George W. Argo, one of the attorneys for the Haddock murderer. Wood thinks the disbarment committee had something to do with the arrest, as that committee accused him in their petition of retaining money collected for Chapman & Co. Wood says the firm is indebted to him for legal services.

Boiled in a Mash-Tub.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—John Taylor, an employee of Rolph's vinegar works, this city, fell into a mash-tub at that place and was so badly scalded that he died. He was standing on the top of a board that extended across the top of the tub, when his foot slipped. The temperature of the mash was about 170 degrees, and before he could be extricated the flesh on some portions of his body was literally cooked, and fell off in great flakes.

United Brethren Bishop Dead.

CHURCHVILLE, Va., Jan. 10.—Rev. John Jacob Glossbrenner, D.D., bishop of the United Brethren church, died here yesterday after an illness of five months.

THE FIRE RECORD.

A Job Printing Office and a Chair Company Burned at Pittsburgh—Elsewhere.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—At an early hour this morning fire broke out in the building occupied by A. M. Rogers & Co., job printers, corner of Sixth Street and Duquesne Way. The printing office was damaged to the extent of $8,000. The adjoining property, occupied by the Stevens R. Chalmers Chair company, was damaged $8,000. The buildings, on which there is a small insurance, was the property of the Shields estate.

Delaware City Fire.

WILMINGTON, Jan. 10.—The town of Delaware City was visited by a fire, which swept away nearly the entire business portion of the place. Among the buildings totally destroyed were the Robinson house, a house and store owned by William R. Bright, the Colon house, the dwelling of George B. Money, the store of C. S. Wingate, the jewelry store of William Harlow, the notion store of H. C. Clark, where the fire originated; the store and house of Mrs. J. S. Cane, the store of Isaac H. Ubi and the store of William Buck. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

A Mine in Danger.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 10.—The entire hoisting apparatus and machinery of the Coal Valley Mining company, at Cable, was destroyed by fire. The fire is eating its way into the shafting, and it is feared that the mine will be ignited. The loss is estimated at $15,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

An Entire Town Destroyed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A Times special from Dallas, Tex., says: The town of Duck Creek, containing 300 inhabitants, and situated ten miles north of this city, was destroyed by fire which originated in a defective chimney. The loss on the buildings and merchandise was $100,000; uninsured.

Machine and Car Shops.

Two Misers Starved to Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Two misers, Joseph Perry, aged seventy-three years, and Robert Price, aged sixty-five years, were found starved this morning in their miserable abode in a basement at 1025 Locust street, where they had lived more than thirty years. They had never held any communication with their neighbors, and the fact of their death was learned after it had been noticed that they had not been seen to leave or enter the place for a week. This led to the police being notified, and upon the apartments being broken into, the dead bodies of the misers were found. Nothing is known of their affairs, though it was generally reported in the neighborhood that they had money in various banks. Jewelry and stock worth a few hundred dollars were found among Perry's effects. He is known, however, to have owned real estate worth from $100,000 to $200,000. Price was a carpenter by trade, and had very little money. Perry was in business forty years ago. It appears that death was due as much to cold as to starvation.

Serious Runaway Accident.

BATAVIA, O., Jan. 10.—While returning from a funeral, and just at the approach of the Cincinnati & Eastern crossing at this place, the pony driven by John Hillin became frightened at the cars and ran off, upsetting the buggy and hurling its occupants, Hillin and wife, over an embankment and on to the track. Mrs. Hillin, an aged and feeble lady, was seriously and, it is thought, fatally injured. She was conveyed to the residence of J. W. Duckwall, where she lay for some time unconscious. Mr. Hillin also sustained serious injuries about the head and shoulders, but will recover.

Bohemian Oats.

DECATUR, Ind., Jan. 10.—The Bohemian Oats company has brought suit against farmers of Wells county, to compel them to pay notes given for Bohemian oats at the rate of $10 a bushel. Forty farmers have organized to resist the payment of their notes, on the ground that the contract was not fulfilled. The company agreed to take a certain part of the crop at the same price, and did not do so. There are thousands of dollars of similar notes in this county, but the farmers are paying them off quietly, knowing they were swindled, but ashamed to bruit the matter abroad.

Secretary Lamar Not to Resign.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 10.—Secretary Lamar authorizes a correspondent to deny in the most emphatic terms the rumor that, in obedience to the wishes of his newly wedded wife, he will resign his seat in the cabinet. "I am not one of the resigning sort," he said. "It is Mr. Lamar's intention on his return to Washington week after next to keep up the social magnificence of the cabinet. He left to-night with his wife for Oxford, Miss. He will deliver the commencement oration for Emory college in this state next summer."

Democrat Caucus in Wisconsin.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Jan. 10.—The Democratic Congressional convention to nominate a candidate for the unexpired term of late W. S. Price, and one for the long term coming, took place here. The convention was very harmonious. Dr. Samuel C. Johnson, of Hudson, was nominated for the long and James Borden, of Superior City, for short term, both by acclamation.

Governor Gray Not a Candidate.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Star's Indianapolis special says that Governor Gray told the correspondent that he was not a candidate for United States senator, because his resignation of the governorship might turn the office over to a Republican. He thinks Hon. David Turpie will be nominated.

Prostrated by Overwork.

CARTHAGE, Ill., Jan. 10.—Professor W. K. Hill, chair of natural sciences, Carthage college, a survivor of the Baltimore & Ohio wreck at Republic, O., is prostrated by overwork. Professor Hill saved the lives of several people, and worked over fourteen hours among the dead and dying victims.

ERICSSON'S NEW MONSTER

A MARINE ENGINE WARRANTED TO BLOW UP THE WORLD'S NAVIES.

Two Million Dollars Properly Expended Would Be Sufficient to Protect Our Entire Eastern Coast Against Foreign Nations—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Capt. C. A. Bushnell, who secured for Ericsson the contract for the first Monitor during the war, has been in Washington for several days for the purpose of presenting the merits of the great inventor's latest discovery in the way of a marine engine of destruction. Capt. Bushnell says that the inventor is now eighty-four years of age, and that it is important for the government to take action at once.

He says that Ericsson has refused to sell this vessel's plan or model to foreign navies, and that he built it for the protection of this country. The captain will ask the committee to authorize the building of ten of these vessels. He wants the committee to act at once, so that they can have the benefit of Ericsson's personal supervision. They can be built at a cost of $200,000 each. This number would be sufficient to protect our entire eastern coast against the foreign navies of the world.

Capt. Bushnell says he is perfectly confident that a vessel like Destroyer could sink the Invincible, the most formidable vessel of the British navy, within fifteen minutes. The building of these vessels, he claims, would do away with the necessity of expending great sums on coast fortifications.

The house naval committee agreed to report in favor of building six more new vessels for the navy, two to be of the size of the Newark, costing $1,600,000 each, the other four to be of 8,000 tons burr en and to cost $1,100,000 or $1,200,000 each.

House.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mr. Harmer, of Pennsylvania, presented a petition in favor of reduction of internal taxes from citizens of Germantown, Philadelphia.

Mr. Wilkins, of Ohio, reported a bill to increase the appropriation for the public building at Brooklyn, N. Y. Committee of the whole.

Mr. Cox, of North Carolina, reported senate bill repealing the tenure of office act. Calendar.

Mr. Dibble, of South Carolina, reported senate bill changing the limit of appropriation for the building at Denver, Col.

Mr. Morrow, of California, presented a petition of chamber of commerce of Eureka, Cal., asking for an appropriation of $500,000 to improve the channel of Humboldt Bay. Referred.

The house went into committee of the whole for the consideration of bills reported from the committee on public buildings and grounds, Dr. Cox, of New York, in the chair.

The bill appropriating $500,000 for the erection of a public building at Charleston, S. C., and authorizing the sale of the present postoffice there, was called up.

Mr. Neptur, of Iowa, opposed the measure on the grounds that the seismic vibrations still continued at Charleston, rendering a costly structure inadvisable; moreover he didn't think too business of the city warranted such a building. He moved that the appropriation be reduced to $300,000. Lost.

Mr. Neptur then raised the point of no quorum. The bill went over without action.

Centennial Celebrations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The first meeting of the senate committee appointed last session to consider the advisability of holding in Washington a centennial anniversary of the adoption of the constitution of the United States and the discovery of America, was held this morning. Mr. A. D. Anderson and Dr. Loring, of the board of the constitutional celebration in 1889, and a permanent exposition of the three Americas, gave a general explanation of the plans of the committee. Letters were presented from several Spanish-American ministers expressing their approval of the proposed expositions. Mr. Anderson showed the political and commercial advantages of the proposed celebration.

Committee on Revision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The house committee on revision of the laws has agreed to report with favorable recommendation a bill authorizing the appointment and fixing the compensation of clerks to senators and representatives who are not chairmen of committees; also a bill prohibiting the appointment of congressional funeral committees to attend funerals at public expense outside of the District of Columbia, and limiting the expense in such cases to the actual cost of burial. A section of the bill prohibits the draping of public buildings except upon the order of the president.

Bids for Public Printer's Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The joint committee on printing has authorized the public printer to advertise for bids for the ensuing year's supply of paper for public printing. February 2 is the date given for the opening of bids.

Pension for Durbin Ward's Widow.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In the session of the house for the consideration of pension business, a bill was passed granting a pension of $50 a month to the widow of Gen. Durbin Ward.

A Wealthy Pensioner.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Jan. 10.—A case where a pension was most worthily bestowed is that of William C. Tomalson, who for many years has been living in an old log cabin near Patoka, Ill., and who was wounded at Fort Donelson, twenty-four years since, while a soldier of Company E, Eleventh Illinois regiment. He is sixty-five years of age. To-day he received $1,700 back pay and $5 allowance monthly.

Allen G. Thurman's Condition.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—A late Columbus dispatch says: Ex-Senator Allen G. Thurman is rapidly improving from his sudden attack of sickness at the Jackson club banquet Friday night, and was resting very comfortably. The heated condition of the hall and dense smoke from cigars overcame him in his feeble condition for a time, but he is now feeling much better.

CORK AND OIL.

An Attempt to Liberate Prisoners From the Tombs Frustrated.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A man named Ferris was permitted to enter the tombs prison to visit a prisoner, but after he had got inside it was discovered that he had concealed under his coat a box containing two flasks of oil, packed in cork filings. The box was addressed to Alexander Sweeney, a prisoner under sentence of death for the murder of a canalboatman. It is claimed by the prison officials that the intention was probably to have Sweeney set fire to the filings and throw the box into the hall. An alarm of fire being raised, the cell door would be opened, and in the confusion Sweeney might escape.

Cork filings saturated with oil from the broken bottles would, it is said, be one of the hardest things in the world to extinguish when ignited. Ferris was arrested. He claims that some one unknown to him handed him the box as he was entering the prison, and asked him to deliver it to Sweeney. The officials believed his story and let him go. The new warden, "Fatty" Walsh, about whose appointment there has been much criticism, is greatly elated over this proof that vigilance is not being relaxed under his management.

A PERILOUS CRUISE.

Twenty-three Miles Down the Ohio on a Cake of Ice.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 10.—John Grigsby, the nineteen-year-old son of E. H. Grigsby, went skating last evening with a party of friends on the Ohio river at Westport, a town about twenty-five miles up the river from here. He ventured too near the outer edge of the ice, when a great cracking was heard, and the portion upon which he was standing broke loose and floated away.

It was impossible for a skiff to be pushed into the great grinding cakes. His companions ran and informed Mr. Grigsby of his perilous position. The latter immediately saddled a horse and overtook the young man about three miles down the river. The cake was about one hundred yards from the shore. Mr. Grigsby followed it down to within two miles of this city, a distance of twenty-three miles, when he gave two fishermen $10 each to go out in a skiff and rescue the boy. With much difficulty they did so and brought the young man safe to shore. He was almost frozen and nearly scared to death.

Gas Explosion in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—While the employees of the Chicago Gaslight company were working in the coal sheds along the docks yesterday afternoon, a deafening report was suddenly heard and a great flame shot out of the vault of a gas house. John Langdon, Charles James, John Napperville and several other employees received the full force of the explosion, and were thrown to the ground. Langdon's and James' clothes caught fire, and before they could be extinguished the men were severely burned. Napperville and several others were injured, but not seriously. The explosion was caused by flowing into a large sewer from a defective pipe.

Judge Pratt Improving.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Judge Pratt has taken up his temporary residence with his physician, Dr. F. S. Spear, at 612 Montague street, this city. Dr. Spear said that the judge was doing nicely and would be out again in a few days. His case was not a critical one. Judge Pratt said to a reporter: "I am feeling much better and I will be out in a few days. My physician has ordered me to drop business entirely, and I have done so. I see the papers had me a very sick man, in consequence several old friends called to bid me good bye. I regard my decision in the case of the McQuade application a stay. I know no more about it than you."

The Union Not Responsible.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Examiner publishes a letter signed "August Howlitz" which states that the persons responsible for the dynamite explosion are in no way connected with the carmen's union and that the latter do not even know who the dynamiters are. The letter further states that the dynamiters are members of a powerful association which was organized in Chicago immediately after the Haymarket riot, and concludes as follows: "We have a program laid out for a series of dynamite explosions, and shall go forward in earnest if the roads persist in refusing the carmen their just rights."

Disappeared With $70,000.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 10.—Henry Morris, of Woodbridge, N. J., secretary and treasurer of the New York Textile Filtering company, has disappeared with funds of the company amounting to about $70,000. The concern is owned mostly by the Morris family, and the father, aged seventy, and the younger brother of the defaulter are ruined. Morris had lost money in recent speculations. He leaves a wife and child behind him. The deserted woman is prostrated with grief.

Missouri Legislature.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 10.—A concurrent resolution providing for the submission of the question of the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating beverages to a popular vote has been introduced in both houses of the legislature. A bill was also introduced providing for the restriction of railroad pools. The vote cast at the recent election was canvassed, and the result as previously announced, was declared correct.

Explosion in a Flour Mill.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 10.—A terrific explosion occurred in the new flouring mill at Carberry, on the Canada Pacific railroad, one hundred miles west of this city. The explosion was caused by flour dust igniting. The building is a complete wreck. The loss on the building and machinery is $35,000.

Choked on Bone.

LONDON, O. Jan. 10.—W. W. Burris, a married man in impoverished circumstances, lodged a piece of bone or meat in his throat while eating breakfast, and is choking to death. His house burned down a few weeks ago, in which he lost almost all of his furniture.

Logan Memorial Services.

FREERPORT, Ill., Jan. 10.—At the opera house the memorial services for Gen. John A. Logan were largely attended. Addresses were made by Gen. Smith D. Atkins, Hon. James I. Neff and Rev. Dr. Jenkins. Eulogistic resolutions were adopted.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY EVENING, JAN. 10, 1887.

THE two nail mills at Ironton made 499,640 kegs of nails last year.

CASHIER PIERSON, of Philadelphia, who stole $30,000 from the American Baptist Society has been sentenced to thirty months' imprisonment. A month for every $1,000 stolen is little enough.

THE Carlisle Mercury celebrated its twenty-first birthday last week, and if Nicholas wasn't so strongly Democratic, we would feel like moving that Brother Keller's paper be allowed a vote at the next election.

WITH Holt, of Calloway, as the Democratic nominee for Governor, and Holt, of Montgomery, as the Republican nominee, with a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match, it is not difficult to predict which party would get the under-Holt.—Louisville Times.

BUSINESS circles were considerably staggered at Cincinnati last week by the collapse of three large firms: Weatherby, Stevens & Co., Thompson, Lewis & Co., and R. Rothschilds and Sons. The assets of the latter firm are double the liabilities, however.

THE Louisville Commercial thinks Buckner's "boom" for Governor is sagging in the middle, and that "the General's" windy followers will have trouble to keep it afloat. Our contemporary shouldn't be poking fun at the General. The ticket, after all, may be Buckner and Wolford.

THE assessed value of property in Woodford County, under the Hewitt revenue bill, is $1,600,000 greater than it was under the old law. So far as heard from, there isn't a county in the State that does not show an increase in the assessment under the working of the new law. One thing made plain as day is, that a great deal of property has been escaping taxation year after year. Somebody has been dodging taxes right along, and it hasn't been the poor man, whose all consists of a little home, either. He has been bearing his portion of the burden. It is the rich man who has been hiding his property away, whom the new law is bringing to time.

A. H. Knoll.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., January 10, 1887.
Editor Bulletin: I know nothing of Knoll's antecedents, nor does any other citizen of Maysville. This is, I doubt not, greatly to his advantage. But I have a letter from a party in Cincinnati who seems to be quite well acquainted with the movements of the "dance-house" and "beer-garden" virtuoso in that city, and deprecates the fact that he has been "lionized" by genteel people in Maysville. Respect for the feelings of those who have been duped by him prevents the publication of the letter. Knoll can see the original upon application to me.

Very respectfully,
THOMAS A. DAVIS.

SCHOOL NOTES.

NO. 3—MINERVA.

The house is a brick structure, contains three rooms, though only two of them are in use; the other being in a dilapidated condition. The census report shows 128 pupils. There are 54 on roll and 49 were found in attendance. The trustees are James M. Byar, D. James Reid, James Drake, Marshall King and Campbell King. They have all visited the school. The advanced pupils are taught by Martin A. McKnight, a teacher of very excellent accomplishments. In this room we were entertained by a very lively discussion of ancient history. We found 16 pupils in this room, all well advanced in their studies.

The primary department, taught by Mrs. Lizzie Orr, numbered 33 pupils. She uses the written work in many of her classes, and we could perceive marked advancement on the part of the pupils since last year. The decline of this room is first class.

NO. 4—SHANNON.

The census report shows 52 pupils. There are 25 on roll and we found 11 present. The trustees are J. W. Clary, R. H. Gault and Grant Kilpatrick. Mr. Clary has visited the school. Of the patrons, Mrs. W. T. Cole and Mrs. Strode have visited the school.

John T. Martin is teaching his second term at this place. He has attended a Normal School, takes an educational journal and patronizes the teachers library. He uses the written work in some of his classes and is an industrious and faithful teacher. The discipline and working order of his school is very good.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Buckner's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Buckner's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecos & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

THE CONFEDERATE CHIEFTAIN'S
LAST COMMAND IN THE FIELD.

Mortally Wounded by Shots from His Own Men—Litter Borne Under Federal Artillery Fire—Last Order Given by the General.

When Jackson had reached the point where his line now crossed the turnpike, scarcely a mile west of Chancellorsville and not half a mile from a line of Federal troops, he had found his front line unfurled to the farther and vigorous advance he desired, by reason of the irregular character of the fighting, now right, now left, and because of the dense thickets through which it was impossible to preserve alignment. Division commanders found it more and more difficult as the twilight deepened to hold their broken brigades in hand. Regretting the necessity of relieving the troops in front, Gen. Jackson had ordered A. P. Hill's division, his third and reserve line, to be placed in front. While this change was being effected, impatient and anxious, the general rode forward on the turnpike, followed by two or three of his staff and a number of couriers and signal sergeants. He passed the swampy depression, and began the ascent of the hill toward Chancellorsville, when he came upon a line of the Federal infantry lying on their arms. Fired at by one or two muskets (two musket balls from the enemy whistled over my head as I came to the front), he turned and came back toward his line, upon the side of the road to his left.

SHOT BY HIS OWN MEN.

As he rode near to the Confederate troops just placed in position, and ignorant that he was in the front, the left company began firing to the front, and two of his party fell from their saddles dead—Capt. Boswell, of the engineers, and Sergt. Cunliffe, of the signal corps. Spurring his horse across the road to his right, he was met a second volley from the right company of Pender's North Carolina brigade. Under this volley, when not two rods from the troops, the general received three balls at the same instant. One penetrated the palm of his right hand, and was cut out that night from the back of his hand. A second passed around the wrist of the left arm and out through the left hand. But a third ball passed through the left arm half way from the shoulder to the elbow. The large bone of the upper arm was splintered to the elbow joint, and the wound bled freely. His horse turned quickly from the fire, through the thick bushes, which swept the cap from the general's head and scratched his forehead, leaving drops of blood to stain his face.

As he lost his hold upon the bridle rein he reeled from the saddle and was caught by the arms of Capt. Milbourne, of the signal corps. Laid upon the ground, there came at once to his succor Gen. A. P. Hill and members of his staff. The writer reached his side a minute after, to find Gen. Hill holding the head and shoulders of the wounded chief. Cutting open the coat sleeve, from wrist to shoulder, I found the wound in the upper arm, and with my handkerchief I bound the arm above the wound, to stem the flow of blood. Couriers were sent for Dr. Hunter McGuire, the surgeon of the corps and the general's trusted friend, and for an ambulance. Being outside of our lines, it was urgent that he should be moved at once. With difficulty litter bearers were brought from the line near by, the general placed upon the litter and carefully raised to the shoulder, I myself bearing one corner.

UNDER ARTILLERY FIRE.

A moment later artillery from the Federal side was opened upon us; great broadsides thundered over the woods; hissing shells searched the dark thickets through, and shrapnel swept the road along which we moved. Two or three steps farther and the litter bearer at my side was struck and fell, but as the litter turned Maj. Watkins Leigh, of Hill's staff, happily caught it. But the fright of the men was so great that we were obliged to lay the litter and its burden down upon the road. As the litter bearers ran to the cover of the trees I threw myself by the general's side, and held him firmly to the ground as he attempted to rise. Over us swept the rapid fire of shot and shell—grape-shot striking fire on the flinty rock of the road all around us and sweeping from their feet horses and men of the artillery just moved to the front. Soon the firing veered to the other side of the road, and I sprang to my feet, assisted the general to rise, passed my arm around him, and with the wounded man's weight thrown heavily upon me, we forsook the road.

Entering the woods, he sank to the ground from exhaustion, but the litter was soon brought, and, again rallying a few men, we essayed to carry him farther, when a second bearer fell at my side. This time, with none to assist, the litter careened, and the general fell to the ground with a groan of deep pain. Greatly alarmed, I sprang to his aid, and lifting his head as a stray beam of moonlight came through clouds and leaves, he opened his eyes and weakly said: "Never mind me, captain, never mind me." Raising him again to his feet, he was accosted by Brig. Gen. Pender: "Oh, general, I hope you are not seriously wounded. I will have to retire my troops to reform them, they are so much broken by this fire." But Jackson, rallying his strength, with firm voice said: "You must hold your ground, Gen. Pender; you must hold your ground, sir!" And so uttered his last command on the field.—Capt. James Power Smith in The Century.

Gilbert—Huntley.

Belle Gilbert, it will be remembered, was for four years, leading lady of the Madison Square Theatre, New York, playing "Esmeralda," "Hazel Kirk," and "Young Mrs. Winthrop," with the greatest success. Having adopted the character of "Esmeralda" when first produced, she subsequently played it over three hundred nights in succession with the above named company and made the character conceded her own. To it her name is inseparably linked. This distinguished artist will make her first appearance here, to-night as "Constance," in "Young Mrs. Winthrop." Secure seats at Taylors. Only 15, 25 and 35 cents.

At the Grand.

The Gilbert-Huntley Comedy Company will begin, to-night, a week's engagement at the opera house. Popular prices—15, 25 and 35 cents—will prevail. In alluding to the company, the Madison, Ind., Daily Herald says:

The new years matinee was largely attended by a representative Madison audience that welcomed Miss Belle Gilbert and her excellent support upon their first appearance, with a degree not always accorded a new and untried company.

That Miss Gilbert merits the encomiums preceding her was evident in her rendition of "Young Mrs. Winthrop," a role that called for repressed emotion, expression full of meaning when no word was spoken, and grace of action. All these she possesses in a marked degree, and was in reality the young and unhappy Mrs. Winthrop to the audience. Her costumes were handsome and gracefully worn.

Mr. J. H. Huntley in the character of Douglas Winthrop, was a thorough New Yorker, earnest, business-like and cool. He has a fine physique, good stage presence and clear cut enunciation, all of which are adjuncts to an accomplished actor. The company is an unusually well-balanced one and sustained their respective roles exceeding well.

"I want something to cure my cough. I have tried our doctor, and almost every proprietary medicine I ever heard of, but nothing seems to do me any good," a lady said to the clerk in a large drug-store.

"Gooch's Mexican Syrup gives the most general satisfaction of any thing we have ever sold, and is pronounced by some of our most prominent people to be the best remedy for coughs and lung troubles ever put upon the market. We sell more of it than all other cough remedies put together. You see our customers risk nothing in buying, as the proprietors authorize all druggists to guarantee it; so if this does not give you satisfaction, we will refund the money. It has made some remarkable cures," he replied.

A WORD TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Consumptives, because all other things fail, believe not that Gooch's Mexican Syrup will. CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.
